

703 EMPLOYEE INFORMATION AND RECORDS

Education Code Sections

87031. (a) Every employee has the right to inspect personnel records pursuant to Section 1198.5 of the Labor Code.

(b) In addition to subdivision (a), all of the following shall apply to an employee of a school district:

- (1) Information of a derogatory nature shall not be entered into an employee's personnel records unless and until the employee is given notice and an opportunity to review and comment on that information. The employee shall have the right to enter, and have attached to any derogatory statement, his or her own comments. The review shall take place during normal business hours and the employee shall be released from duty for this purpose without salary reduction.
- (2) The employee shall not have the right to inspect personnel records at a time when the employee is actually required to render services to the district.
- (3) Nothing in this section shall entitle an employee to review ratings, reports, or records that (A) were obtained prior to the employment of the person involved, (B) were prepared by identifiable examination committee members, or (C) were obtained in connection with a promotional examination.

88168. Upon initial employment and upon each change in classification thereafter, each classified employee shall be furnished two copies of his or her class specification, salary data, assignment or work location, together with duty hours and the prescribed workweek. The salary data shall include the annual, monthly or pay period, daily, hourly, overtime and differential rate of compensation, whichever are applicable. One copy shall be retained by the employee and the other copy shall be signed and dated by the employee and returned to his or her supervisor.

This section shall not apply to short-term, limited-term, or provisional employees, as those terms are defined in this chapter.

This section shall apply to districts that have adopted the merit system in the same manner and effect as if it were a part of Article 3 (commencing with Section 88060).

Labor Code Section

1198.5. (a) Every current and former employee, or his or her representative, has the right to inspect and receive a copy of the personnel records that the employer maintains relating to the employee's performance or to any grievance concerning the employee.

(b) (1) The employer shall make the contents of those personnel records available for inspection to the current or former employee, or his or her representative, at reasonable intervals and at reasonable times, but not later than 30 calendar days from the date the employer receives a written request, unless the current or former employee, or his or her representative, and the employer agree in writing to a date beyond 30 calendar days to inspect the records, and the agreed-upon date does not exceed 35 calendar days from the employer's receipt of the written request. Upon a written request from a current or former employee, or his or her representative, the employer shall also provide a copy of the personnel records, at a charge not to exceed the actual cost of reproduction, not later than 30 calendar days from the date the employer receives the request, unless the current or former employee, or his or her representative, and the employer agree in writing to a date beyond 30 calendar days to produce a copy of the records, as long as the agreed-upon date does not exceed 35 calendar days from the employer's receipt of the written request. Except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), the employer is not required to make those personnel records or a copy thereof available at a time when the employee is actually required to render service to the employer, if the requester is the employee.

(2) (A) For purposes of this section, a request to inspect or receive a copy of personnel records shall be made in either of the following ways:

- (i) Written and submitted by the current or former employee or his or her representative
- (ii) (ii) Written and submitted by the current or former employee or his or her representative by completing an employer-provided form.

(B) An employer-provided form shall be made available to the employee or his or her representative upon verbal request to the employee's supervisor or, if known to the employee or his or her representative at the time of the request, to the individual the employer designates under this section to receive a verbal request for the form.

(c) The employer shall do all of the following:

LAW AND RULES

January 29, 2020

- (1) With regard to all employees, maintain a copy of each employee's personnel records for a period of not less than three years after termination of employment.
- (2) With regard to current employees, make a current employee's personnel records available for inspection, and, if requested by the employee or his or her representative, provide a copy thereof, at the place where the employee reports to work, or at another location agreeable to the employer and the requester. If the employee is required to inspect or receive a copy at a location other than the place where he or she reports to work, no loss of compensation to the employee is permitted.
- (3)
 - (A) With regard to former employees, make a former employee's personnel records available for inspection, and, if requested by the employee or his or her representative, provide a copy thereof, at the location where the employer stores the records, unless the parties mutually agree in writing to a different location. A former employee may receive a copy by mail if he or she reimburses the employer for actual postal expenses.
 - (B)
 - (i) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), if a former employee seeking to inspect his or her personnel records was terminated for a violation of law, or an employment-related policy, involving harassment or workplace violence, the employer may comply with the request by doing one of the following:
 - (I) Making the personnel records available to the former employee for inspection at a location other than the workplace that is within a reasonable driving distance of the former employee's residence.
 - (II) Providing a copy of the personnel records by mail.
 - (ii) Nothing in this subparagraph shall limit a former employee's right to receive a copy of his or her personnel records.
- (d) An employer is required to comply with only one request per year by a former employee to inspect or receive a copy of his or her personnel records.
- (e) The employer may take reasonable steps to verify the identity of a current or former employee or his or her authorized representative. For purposes of this section, "representative" means a person authorized in writing by the employee to inspect, or receive a copy of, his or her personnel records.
- (f) The employer may designate the person to whom a request is made.

LAW AND RULES

January 29, 2020

- (g) Prior to making records specified in subdivision (a) available for inspection or providing a copy of those records, the employer may redact the name of any nonsupervisory employee contained therein.
- (h) The requirements of this section do not apply to:
- (1) Records relating to the investigation of a possible criminal offense.
 - (2) Letters of reference.
 - (3) Ratings, reports, or records that were:
 - (A) Obtained prior to the employee's employment.
 - (B) Prepared by identifiable examination committee members.
 - (C) Obtained in connection with a promotional examination.
 - (4) Employees who are subject to the Public Safety Officers Procedural Bill of Rights (Chapter 9.7 (commencing with Section 3300) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code).
 - (5) Employees of agencies subject to the Information Practices Act of 1977 (Title 1.8 (commencing with Section 1798) of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code).
- (i) If a public agency has established an independent employee relations board or commission, an employee shall first seek relief regarding any matter or dispute relating to this section from that board or commission before pursuing any available judicial remedy.
- (j) In enacting this section, it is the intent of the Legislature to establish minimum standards for the inspection and the receipt of a copy of personnel records by employees. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the establishment of additional rules for the inspection and the receipt of a copy of personnel records that are established as the result of agreements between an employer and a recognized employee organization.
- (k) If an employer fails to permit a current or former employee, or his or her representative, to inspect or copy personnel records within the times specified in this section, or times agreed to by mutual agreement as provided in this section, the current or former employee or the Labor Commissioner may recover a penalty of seven hundred fifty dollars ($750) from the employer.
- (l) A current or former employee may also bring an action for injunctive relief to obtain compliance with this section, and may recover costs and reasonable attorney's fees in such an action.

LAW AND RULES

January 29, 2020

- (m) Notwithstanding Section 1199, a violation of this section is an infraction. Impossibility of performance, not caused by or resulting from a violation of law, may be asserted as an affirmative defense by an employer in any action alleging a violation of this section.
 - (n) If an employee or former employee files a lawsuit that relates to a personnel matter against his or her employer or former employer, the right of the employee, former employee, or his or her representative to inspect or copy personnel records under this section ceases during the pendency of the lawsuit in the court with original jurisdiction.
 - (o) For purposes of this section, a lawsuit “relates to a personnel matter” if a current or former employee’s personnel records are relevant to the lawsuit.
 - (p) An employer is not required to comply with more than 50 requests under this section to inspect and receive a copy of personnel records filed by a representative or representatives of employees in one calendar month.
 - (q) This section does not apply to an employee covered by a valid collective bargaining agreement if the agreement expressly provides for all of the following:
 - (1) The wages, hours of work, and working conditions of employees.
 - (2) A procedure for the inspection and copying of personnel records.
 - (3) Premium wage rates for all overtime hours worked.
 - (4) A regular rate of pay of not less than 30 percent more than the state minimum wage rate.
- A. A regular classified employee, upon initial employment and upon each change in classification after initial employment, shall be provided with two copies of their class specification and information regarding salary data and work location, hours, and schedule in accordance with procedures established by the Human Resources Division. One copy shall be retained by the employee, and the other copy shall be signed and dated by the employee and returned to their supervisor.
- B. Information of a derogatory nature shall not be included in an employee's personnel file unless and until that employee is given notice and an opportunity to review and comment on that information. The employee shall have the right to make a written statement regarding the derogatory materials, which shall be attached to the materials and placed in the employee's personnel file.
- C. Pursuant to Section 1198.5 of the Labor Code, the Office of Employee and Labor Relations shall make materials in an employee’s personnel file available for inspection or produce a copy thereof for a current or former employee, or their authorized representative as follows:
 - (1) After receipt of a written request, material shall be made available for inspection or a copy produced no later than 30 calendar days from the date of the written request, unless the requester and the Office of Employee and Labor Relations agree in writing upon a date that does not exceed 35 calendar days from the receipt of the written request.

- (2) A current employee shall be able to inspect their personnel record at the current work location. A former employee shall inspect their personnel record at the location where the District stores personnel records. Upon mutual agreement between the Office of Employee and Labor Relations and the requester, a different location may be chosen. A former employee may also request to receive a copy of their personnel record by mail, which may require the requester to reimburse the Office of Employee and Labor Relations for actual postal expenses.
- (3) The names of nonsupervisory employees contained in the material for inspection or copy may be redacted prior to providing it to a requester.
- (4) The requester may be charged a fee for a copy of the records not to exceed the actual cost of reproduction.

D. The following materials in a personnel file are exempt from inspection or copy requests by an employee:

1. Records relating to the investigation of a possible criminal offense
2. Letters of reference
3. Ratings, reports, or records that were:
 - a. obtained prior to the employee's employment, or
 - b. prepared by identifiable examination committee members, or
 - c. obtained in connection with a promotional examination.

E. Absence from work by current employee for the purpose of inspecting or receiving a copy of their personnel files shall not be compensable, except as provided below:

1. The employee is required to inspect or receive a copy of the materials at a location other than their current work location; or
2. The employee is reviewing materials of a derogatory nature.

F. The Office of Employee and Labor Relations may limit a former employee's request for inspecting or receiving a copy of their personnel record to one request per year.

G. The provisions of this rule pursuant to inspection and copying of employee records shall have no force and effect upon employees of any collective bargaining unit where the bargaining agreement provides a procedure for this process.
