IV. NEW BUSINESS

AB 2372 (Ammiano and Bocanegra) – Proposition 13

Under current law, what constitutes a “change of ownership” for the purposes of assessing property tax in accordance with Proposition 13 is fairly ambiguous and due to this, many larger corporations/businesses have taken advantage and avoided property reassessment.

Analysis: AB 2372 changes this by better defining “change of ownership” as when either (1) more than half of the ownership/control of a property has been transferred; or (2) 90 percent of the cumulative ownership interests, other than stocks, have been transferred (like when 10 people buy nine percent ownership each). In addition to these changes, the bill increases the penalty if an entity fails to report a change of ownership to the state. Additional revenues derived from the change would be in the form of increased property taxes which would increase Proposition 98, increasing funding to community colleges. Community colleges would receive approximately 11 percent of any additional Proposition 98 revenues and LACCD would receive approximately 10 percent of that. To become law, this bill will need a 2/3 vote from both houses of the state legislature and it would also need to be signed by the Governor. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce supports the measure.
