State Support: $2.5M to LACCD

California Senator Susan Rubio has secured $2.5 million in funding for the LACCD Small Business for Entrepreneurship Center at ELAC.

The Center will prepare current LACCD students from all nine colleges to enter the business field, as well as established small businesses to further their education and skills to grow their businesses, thereby revitalizing and growing the regional economy.

Thank you to the PepsiCo Foundation

The PepsiCo Foundation has committed $1.2 million to LACCD students since 2021 through the Uplift Scholars Program, which provides students with scholarships, access to industry professionals, and career workshops.

Cheetos, in partnership with PepsiCo, made LA Trade-Tech College the first stop on its "Deja Tu Huella" tour on September 7th, providing an afternoon of career exploration and resources.

Welcome Captain Israel Renteria

Community College Bureau, LASD

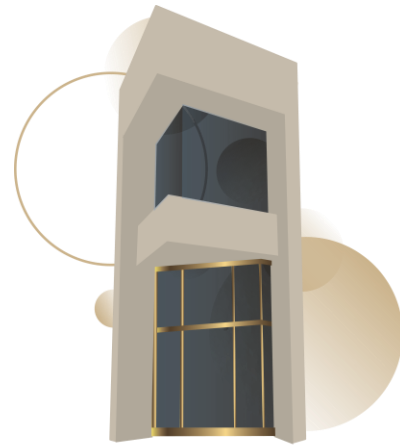

A 22-year veteran of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, Captain Renteria is committed to enhancing the campus community policing practices and improve safety on each of the LACCD nine campuses and two satellite campuses.

Captain Renteria most recently came from Countywide Services Division, where he served as the executive aide to the Division Chief.

Captain Renteria also assisted the Community Partnerships Bureau, where he served as the operations lieutenant with managing patrol related functions that dealt with mental health, homelessness, community-oriented policing, and youth services.

Upcoming State of the District Address: October 4
